To Whom It May Concern:

On October 29, 2008 we attended a CPR course instructed by Walter Piszchala. He was very professional. His organizational skills were excellent. He supplied all necessary learning materials and he work with us as a group as well as individually. He reviewed all of our techniques to be sure we all were comfortable with performing CPR. His teaching techniques were unique and kept us engaged through the entire course. He also spoke of his own individual life experiences, which made everything even more realistic.

We would highly recommend him to anyone seeking to learn CPR. We have already scheduled him to perform our next course renewal. The convenience of him coming to our office was very accommodating.
